BEING GOOD SPORTS

When gestures of sportsmanship go viral, they often feature young athletes. In 2022, a Little League baseball player who took a pitch to the head later hugged the distraught opposing pitcher. Evangelist Ken Wellever says pro athletes, politicians, media personalities and everyday Americans should follow that example rather than focusing on revenge.

“Sadder still is when entire churches are disrupted by petty squabbles, partisan politics and overzealous opinions,” he writes. “Relationships have been ruptured, marriages dissolved and families torn apart due to a harsh response to hurts instead of a spirit of forgiveness and an attitude of reconciliation.”

Christians may sometimes feel tempted to seek payback, but Jesus calls us to live differently. “We need to be reminded that we are to be a transformed people, not conformed to the attitudes and actions of this world (Romans 12:1-2),” Says Wellever. “To be light in a world of darkness. And to be the pure preserving salt in a society that’s become corrupted and impure (Matthew 5:13-16).”
